Paris, April 25.

THE King's Coronation is fixed to be at Rheims the Beginning of September next: At which Solemnity the antient Secular Peers of France are, it is said, to be repreſented by the following Perſons, viz. The Duke of Burgundy by the Duke of Orleans, the Duke of Normandy by the Duke of Chartres, the Duke of Guyenne by the Duke of Bourbon, the Count of Flanders by the Count of Charolois, the Count of Thouloufe by the Count of Clermont, the Count of Champagne by the Prince of Conty. The following Advices received by the Court relating to the Plague, have been communicated to the foreign Miniſters.

M. de Rambion in his Letter of the 9th of April relates, that ſince the 5th of April ſix Perſons had died within the Blockade of St. Genaix, that the Inhabitants were ordered to retire into Barracks; but that there was no Suſpicion of the Plague on this Side of the Line from Rouergue to Velay. M. de Rothe writes the 8th and 10th of April that the new Accidents which had happened in the Vivarais had not produced any ill Conſequence. The Gevaudan was in a very good Condition, and in all the other ſuſpected Parts of the Country there remained but five or ſix ſick. M. de la Deveze in his of the 5th of April, ſays, that of 22 Places which he was newly come from viewing, he found 14 where the Diſtemper had not been felt for above two Months paſt and more. He was going to give Directions for diſinfecting or perfuming and airing Stuffs manufactured in that Part of the Country. The Duke de Roquelaure in his of the 6th, 7th and 10th of April writes, that Marvejols was in perfect Health, the Diſinfection of that Town was finiſhed the 27th of March. Mendes had four Perſons taken ſick between the 28th of March and the 1ſt of April, two others had died and two remained ſick in the Infirmaries. The Biſhop of Alais writes the 7th of April, that ſince the 2d none had died or fallen ill there of the Contagious Diſtemper.

Provence. The Marqueſs de Brancas in his Letters of the 3d, 6th and 8th of April writes, that the Death of three Children in one Family, and of a Prieſt, in 15 Days, in an Houſe at Marſeilles, had extreamly alarmed that City; but that the Bodies having been viewed had no Marks of Contagion; and beſides, the Eaſter-Holidays having ſince paſſed with all free Communication, and no Accident happening, every body was ſatisfied it was a falſe Alarm. M. le Bret writes the 4th and 8th of April, that the Sheriffs of Marſeilles appeared very eaſy upon the Occurrence abovementioned, though concerned for the Effect it would have on the Commerce of their Town. He was of Opinion the Fright was groundleſs, the Town continuing ſince in a good State of Health.

The Comtat. M. de Nogaret writes the 9th of April, that he had an Account from the Conſuls of Avignon that the Town began to be better; Preparations were making there for the general Quarantain; and if the People would become more governable, it might be hoped the Diſtemper would ſoon ceaſe there: The ſaid Quarantain was to begin the 6th. M. d'Orſay writes the 12th of April, that the Number of Perſons dying at Avignon decreaſed daily.
